Two Large Penint-Pacteries and Several Other Buildings Burned-Arrest of the Suproted Incenditaries

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

PETERSHURG, July 23, 1884.

One of the most destructive fires known in Petersburg for some time occurred at an early hour this morning. It digitalted in the large three-story brick building on Lombard street, formerly known as Jackson's rec-house, but for some time past occupied as a peanut-mill by Mr. R. Chester Marks. The fire destroyed that building with all its stock and machinery, then communicated to the large peanut-mill occupied by George Pavis & Co., fronting on Bollingbrook street, burning the building, stock, and machinery; also seriously damiged the building occupied by Watter S. Philips, adjoining on Bollingbrook street, and burned several smaller buildings on the Lombard-street front.

the Lombard-street front.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

The fire was the work of an incendiary beyond all doubt. Evidences of this fact are beyond question.

Last evening about 6 o'clock, just before closing the establishment, Mr. J. C. Syne, the manager for Mr. Marks, discovered that one of the rear windows of the building was raised, and on inquiring he learned that it had been raised by James A. Jackson, a colored employe, who acknowledged that he had raised it for a purpose. Later 2 was discovered that a quantity of cotton waste and other material, saturated with kended of the window. This fact gave rise to the suspicion that the house was to be set on fire last night. Accordingly Mr. Syme communicated this intelligence, with his suspicions, to the Chief of Police, and esked that a watch be set for the protection of the property and the capture of the incendiary if possible.

About 8:30 o'clock an officer was concealed in the building, near the spot, and later Sergeant Berry took a position in the house to keep up the watch. The beat was so great in the building that it became necessary to change the officers during the night, but all night an officer was kept in the building. The extra precaution was also taken to place an officer at the rear window of George Davis's mill, a few feet distant, to aid in the watch, and an officer each in the vicinity on Lombard and

These officers were all kept on duty until

These officers were all kept on duty until siter 4:30 o'clock this morning. At 4:30 o'clock the last one left Marks's building, and five minutes later the house was fixed at the whidow in question. The flames spread rapidly, with the result above stated, though the department fought the flames with all their power.

ARREST OF THE SUPPOSED INCENDIARIES. All the circumstances in the case seemed to point to James A. Jackson as the incendisty, and it must be stated that the circumstantial proof against him has weight. It is said that he lingered longer than usual last evening in the building; that he according to the case of the case last evening in the building; that he acknowledged having raised the window; that he was seen on the street in the neighnorhood early this morning; that he yes terday purchased a gailon of kerosene oil without authority from Mr. Marks, &c., &c. Suspicion also fell upon Mack Gilliam (celored). The two men were arcested. Jackson was found with his clothes on, and a very strong smel of kerosene about them. It is said that Gilliam acknowledged them. It is said that Gilliam acknowledged that he saw Jackson place the influmnable materials at the window, and it is probable that he will be used as a witness in the esse,
The two men were brought into the Mayor's Court and were committed until Friday for examination. In the mean time all the evidence that can be obtained against them will be hunted up.

THE PROPERTY DESTROYED. The two large buildings burned belong to the estate of the late Heary Davis, repre-sented by George H. Davis, Esq. That oc-cupied by Mr. Marks fronted on Lombard street, and was formerly known as Jack-sen's ice-house. If was a three-story house, here too feet lone by 20 wide with double sen's ice-house. If was a three-story house about 100 feet long by 30 wide, with double walls.

That occupied by George Davis & Co. fronted on Bellingbrook street, and ran back a depth of 100 feet to Marks's mill. It was a substantial three-story brick build-rear of this house and a framed tenement on Lombard street, belonging to Mesars. Garlick & Phillips, were destroyed. In the stable were about 1,000 bags and a large

Adjoining on Lombard street was an old frame tenement belonging to Mrs. Dolan, of Prince George county. This was occupied by John W. Jones and Charles Aven

The Flantber And Mechanics Bank.
The grand jury of the Hustings Court still remains in session. For some days the jury have been busily engaged in investigating the slifairs of the Planters and Mechanics Bank, and it is generally conceded that they have settled down to find it out. They have had all the employes of the bank before them, and have examined a number of witnesses. Others are yet to be examined. It will probably be several days before the jury will be ready to make any report. Their action is awalted with the most intense interest.

Huntington's Bride. The New York World of yesterday says

ented it as a testimonial of friendly regard of Mrs. Worshem.

The story of the intimate friendship exsting between the Worsham and the Huntagten families is interesting. Though the milway president was intimate with General Grant, knew Mr. Vanderbilt well, and had the entree to nearly all the best houses in the city, he visited only at the widow's easy home, in Fifty-fourth street. And Mrs. Worsham, with a fortune of $2,000,000 and every opportunity to gralify any social ambition, spent much of her time at the Huntington mansion. The widow and Mrs. Huntington were skild to be devoted to each other. The latter was an invalid, and the visits of Mrs. Worsham were looked upon as among the brightest events.

Edwards went to the St. Claire Hotel here to board on May Sth. He said that his wife would join him in a short time. May 14th he brought Miss Bootwright in, and saked that her meals be sent to her room, as she was sick. She was confined to her room the whole time of her stay there. At one time Edwards said that he feared she would never recover; that was about the day Mr. Cardwell was sent for to write the will. On the 26th of May she was married to Edwards; the hotel people was married to Edwards; the hotel people knew nothing about it until Dr. Tupper came down into the office and mentioned that he had just married a couple up-stairs. Then the manager was very indignant, and took an early opportunity to see Edwards, and to tell him that he and his wife must leave that house; that he had been decelved into believing that they were married people when they came there. A special to the Dispatch sent from Old Point last night says:

The call for an extra session was presented to Governor Cameron to-night by Hon. Charles E. Stuntt, Speaker of the House, and Hon. John L. Hutt, President pro tem of the Senate. It was signed by sixty-eight members of the House—that is, by all the Democrats, and Colonel W. C. Winn, of Lunenburg, and Archer Scott, of Amelia. In the Senate the call was signed by all the Democrats, twenty-five In number, and by Senator Powell and General Wickham.

The gentlemen presenting the call were received very kindly by the Governor, who is looking remarkably well. He informed them that he would take the matter into consideration at once and advise them as soon as possible of his action in the matter.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 23.—The Virginia Russ-Ball Club, of Richmond, played a game with the Athletics, of Eigzbeth, N. J., to-day, in the presence of a very large crowd. The game was interesting, for the rasson only that up to the seventh inning the score was a tic of 5 to 5. In the seventh ioning the Virginias succeeded in scoring the winning run, 3s the Athletica were blanked five successive times after the fourth inning. In fact, the errors of the Athletics gave the Virginias the game, as none of the latter's runs were carned, while the home team carned two out of their five runs. Larkin pitched and Morgan caught for the visitors. Appended is the score by innings:

July 19, 1884.

To the Editor of the Disputch : To the Editor of the Disputch:

In your paper of the 17th your Staunton correspondent mentioned the names of the Hon. W. A. Anderson, Colonel S. F. Coleman, and W. H. H. Lynn as probable candidates for the congressional nomination in the Tenth district. His omission to mention Mr. Tucker would seem to indicate that he is either not a candidate for renomination or else is out of the race. It is true that Mr. Tucker is not a candidate, or will fail of a nomination if he is, I would like to suggest Taylor Berry, Esq. of Amherst, as a gentleman suitable in every way to succeed him in the Congress of the United States. Mr. Berry is a true Virginia gentleman, devoted to her and her people. Possessed of a mind enriched with extensive and varied information acquired by study and observation; a ready and extensive and varied information acquired by study and observation; a ready and earnest debater; always attentive to any duty that may devolve upon him; genial and generous in disposition; magnetic in presence, and of the strictest integrity, he would soon become distinguished in the council of the nation. Naturally modest and retiring, he has never thrust himself forward as an office-seeker, but has waited to be sought out by his people. I do not mean to disparage the gentlemen whose names have already been prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination. They are all most excellent men, and it called upon would serve their State well, but I do not know any gentleman in the district more eminently fitted in every way to represent it in the National Legislature than Mr. Berry.

If Mr. Tucker does not desire a renomination, or if he does not succeed in securing it, the district cannot find a worther and abler successor than Mr. Berry.

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?

As this question is frequently saked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for spwards of thirty years has unitringly devoted her time and talentis as a female physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health—and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowand as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Yast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DALLY cold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has inmortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will sheet its bunefus, and until in calling her blessed.
